SECURE CLOUD STORAGE

Designed to protect your digital security.

Files are end-to-end encrypted, fragmented, and then distributed amongst different machines around the world. Your personal data is part of our distributed network and no longer sitting in one central location.

Files uploaded are client-side encrypted and fragmented into independent shards.

Machines hold encrypted shards, never whole files. Servers are distributed all over the globe.

An answer to the challenge of providing a truly secure and private cloud storage solution.

No third-party can ever access your files. Only you hold the decryption key and can retrieve the fragments.
